

I promise to get my flu vaccine this year and before every flu season in the future. In every place I visit I will shield people from catching the flu.

I will impart my knowledge of this regime to my patients, to my peers, to my own family, and to my friends, and encourage them to also make good decisions and get the vaccine. If I keep this oath faithfully, may all I meet enjoy their lives in good health, free from the perils of flu.

